Football Schedule Arranged for 1921

G. W. U. Eleven Meets University of Virginia at Charlottesville for First Game of 1921 Season—Schedule Well Balanced—G. W. Meets Teams Nearer Her Own Strength

George Washington University opens its season next fall with the University of Virginia football eleven at Charlottesville, Va. The Hatchettes were offered that date by the Charlottesville authorities as the only available date for next season, and accepted.

It had been planned to bring Virginia here for a game in Washington next year, but conditions arose in the home and home Virginia agreements with other university elevens that precluded the possibility of Virginia's coming here.

In 1922 the Orange and Blue eleven is expecting to come to this city for a game in mid-season. Arrangements will be talked over this week between G. W. U. and Virginia authorities relative to a contest in 1922.

Following Virginia is Western Maryland College of Westminster, Md., the eleven which was played a 7-all tie last fall. This game will be played in Washington.

On October 15 the Hatchettes go down to Norfolk, Va., to play William and Mary College. The following Saturday, which is October 22, George Washington is arranging a date with St. John's College of Annapolis, Dickinson or Gettysburg.

On November 5 the Hatchettes journey to Chestertown, Md., to play Washington College. The date of November 12 has been agreed upon by George Washington and Gallaudet College. The final game of the season will be played Thanksgiving Day between George Washington and Catholic University.

The schedule follows:
Oct. 1—University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, Va.
Oct. 8—Western Maryland College, in Washington, D. C.
Oct. 15—William and Mary College, in Norfolk, Va.
Oct. 22—Drexel Institute, at Philadelphia, Pa.
Oct. 29—St. John's College, in Washington (pending).
Nov. 5—Washington College, Chestertown, Md.
Nov. 12—Gallaudet College, in Washington, D. C.
Nov. 24—Catholic University, in Washington, D. C.

On the whole, the schedule is considerably better balanced this year than last. The University of Virginia, considered a leading team in the South, will afford the G. W. U. eleven a first-class chance to open up the season. Admittedly, better and stronger, Virginia can look for some first-class competition next fall.

Western Maryland always furnished spectacular football for home consumption. The Marylanders played good football last year and will be welcomed next fall. William and Mary, of Williamsburg, Va., is one of the oldest institutions in the country and is making a fine reputation for itself in Virginia collegiate circles.

The game in Norfolk will be a first-class trip for the players and will afford plenty of time for a workout before the game and a chance to get back to Washington without the discomfort which accompanied the team in last year's jumps through West Virginia.

The Drexel Institute engagement in Philadelphia is expected to furnish plenty of opposition. Drexel is a new team on the schedule this season and has been coming strong in the past few years. Games are pending with St. John's of Annapolis, Md., Villanova, Dickinson, Gettysburg College and Bucknell for the date of October 29 here in Washington.

Washington College is visited on November 5 at Chestertown, Md. The Chestertown men were on the George Washington schedule several years ago. Following Washington College comes Gallaudet on November 11 or 12. The date of November 12 has been selected in the event Catholic University and Maryland University play their game on Armistice Day. Should the C. U.-M. U. game be played November 12, then Gallaudet and G. W. U. will try to play Armistice Day. Catholic University will be played Thanksgiving Day.

The absence of West Virginia, West Virginia Wesleyan, Bethany and Fordham is occasioned by the fact that these teams had to be guaranteed pro-

HAWLEY AGAIN IS ELECTED CAPTAIN

Elaborate Smoker Given in Honor of Football Squad by Interfraternity Association.

Harry R. Hawley, captain of the 1920 football team, was unanimously re-elected captain for next year at a smoker given at Phi Sigma Kappa chapter house Saturday evening in honor of the team. The affair was given by the Interfraternity Association, was the second for the year, and the fact that the team were to be given their sweaters served to draw a large number of Greeks to the Phi Sig's new house on Massachusetts avenue. Dean Hodgkins of the Engineering College spoke during the evening, as did Bryan Morse, director of student activities, and the program culminated with a surprise in the announcement that election of captain for 1921 football would be held.

President Leslie Young of the Interfraternity Association acted as master of ceremonies, and the arrangements for the affair were made by Ralph Nagle of Phi Sigma Kappa and Howard Espey of Kappa Alpha. It was entirely informal, and acquaintance among the men was made easier by each man wearing a small tag on which was printed his name and the letters of his fraternity.

The presentation of sweaters and the speaking took place in the ballroom, and that part of the program was preceded by a selection from a quartet of Phi Sigma Kappa men—Cleveland, Ellis, Boat and Fitzgerald. President Young introduced Mr. Morse, whose announcement of the tentative schedule for the football team next fall created much interest. He spoke of the support of the team from the fraternities, and the Interfraternity Association and commented very favorably on the cooperation given and spirit shown. Dean Hodgkins spoke along general lines, speaking in particular of the relation of fraternities to the University.

The presentation of the sweaters to the letter men was made by Manager Russell I. Whyte, Capt. Hawley, Right End Loebl and "Bish" Kay were the only men, though, who had courage to respond to the requests for "speech," and their remarks were brief.

James Berryman of Delta Tau Delta did some rapid-fire sketches depicting his impressions of the life of a pledge during his neophyte days, and "Tex" Nall of Sigma Chi, Bert Foster of Delta Tau Delta, and John Daily of Kappa Sigma, one of the letter men, proved expert delineators of dancing steps, both ancient and modern. The evening concluded with the serving of refreshments, after which there was a general talk. Ice-cream, cake and candy were served.

DELTA TAU DELTA OFFERS GOLD MEDAL

Will Award Medal Each June to Student Serving Best the University's Activities.

The Gamma Eta Chapter of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, believing in the necessity of supporting University student activities, will award a gold medal in June of each year to "that student of the University * * * who performs the most meritorious service in the furtherance and up-building of student activities," according to an announcement made last Monday by Whitley P. McCoy, '21, president of the chapter.

The award will be made by a committee, composed of one member of the fraternity and one member each of the Student Council and the Board of Managers, chosen by election from the particular body. This committee will meet some time not later than the second week in May of each year and consider the records of all regularly registered students in the University who have previously completed one full year of scholastic work and who have been active in student affairs. The actual presentation of the medal will take place in the early part of June.

The medal is now in the process of manufacture at one of the jewelry stores in the city and will be on display.

Freshmen Claim To Be Victors

Large Aggregation Turn Out in Both Sophomore and Freshmen Classes to Take Part in Annual Struggle for Class Supremacy—Many Co-Eds Witness Tug of War

The freshman and sophomore classes of George Washington University met in the annual struggle, "tug of war," on the back campus of Lisner Hall Thursday night, December 16. The event, which has always served to determine supremacy and offer an outlet for the excess feeling between the two classes, has this time left the matter still somewhat in doubt. Freshmen claim victory, and their claim is supported by the actual outcome of the "tug." The presence of a rail fence and two or three patrols full of policemen, however, have caused the sophomores to speculate upon the possible results of the struggle had there been no interference.

The event was arranged by Russell I. Whyte at the request of the Student Council. A fire hose was obtained by some of the students and was played across the opening between the back campus and the new lot recently acquired by the University.

A long, heavy rope was stretched across the opening, the sophs occupying one end of the rope in the lot and the frosh at the other in the campus. At the sound of a whistle both sides commenced to pull in earnest. For a while neither side made any considerable gains. The first gain was made by the freshmen; this, however, was only temporary, for as both sides began weakening under the strain the sophs began a steady drive that slowly but surely forced the freshman horde toward the stream of water.

Then a number of things happened. Having pulled the freshman line up a considerable distance, a number of the husky sophs at the end of the rope were forced to climb over the fence to make room. About that time a police patrol arrived, responding to a riot call of some of the Universities' nervous neighbors. The sophs allege that the police broke up their line.

Very soon after the arrival of the police the rope was released by all the sophs who had gone outside of the fence. With the sophomore line very much weakened, it was a fairly easy matter for the freshmen to pull the rope away from the remaining sophs.

G. W. U. MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS DEC. MEETING

Papers Involving Three Distinct Topics of Scientific Interest Submitted by Members for Discussion.

That radium is a valuable adjunct to the X-ray and operations in the treatment of uterine carcinoma and tumors was asserted by Dr. E. W. Titus in a paper on "Radium Therapy in Gynecology" at the December meeting of the George Washington University Medical Society held in Hall No. 1 of the G. W. U. Medical College Saturday night, December 18. He emphasized the fact that radium treatment was effective in a large number of cases where operations were of small avail.

Dr. Adam Kemble reviewed the development of Urology, indicating the forward steps made in this branch of medicine. Dr. Joseph Rogers made an interesting case report on "Two Cases of Ruptured Uteri." Dr. B. M. Randolph exhibited the brain of a patient who had died of convulsions, and demonstrated a lesion evidently of tubercular origin. Each paper was discussed at length by members of the society.

Following the scientific program the meeting was pleasantly ended with a smoker and buffet lunch.

The society has under consideration the erection of a bronze tablet to the memory of the deceased alumni and faculty members who became noted in the field of medical science.

DEBATING SOCIETY.

An interesting debate is to be held at the meeting of the Columbian Debating Society, January 5, at the Law School. The subject of the discussion is, "Should Prohibition be Continued?" The affirmative will be argued by Misses Pearl Crosby, Helen Corliss, Frances Park; and the Misses Catherine Gayle, Dorothy Johnston and Filamora Wilgus will argue the negative.

PYRAMID HOLDS FORMAL BANQUET

Discuss Possibility of Installing Compulsory Activity Tax in University Next Year.

Pyramid held a formal banquet in the oak room of the Raleigh Hotel last Friday evening in honor of the fall initiates. Fifteen men were present and made a wonderful attack on the seven courses prepared in a manner fit for a king. Attractive menus in buff and blue were laid at each table cover.

The president, John W. Townsend, was toastmaster. The speakers and their subjects were: Eugene Underwood, Jr., "A Story of Days Past"; Dr. Daniel Borden, "A Story of Today"; Prof. Gilbert L. Hall, "A Story of Days to Come"; Prof. DeWitt C. Croissant, "An Everyday Story"; and William ("Bill") H. Stayton, Jr., "Just a Story."

All of the talks dealt with the problems of student activities, past, present and future. The advisability of building up a strong football team, both for the benefit of the students participating and for the purpose of advertising the school was emphasized. It was pointed out by each speaker that G. W. U. is waking up, showing real school spirit, and that now is the time to make a great effort to devise a plan for properly financing athletics and other school activities.

A compulsory activity fee was discussed. Stress was laid on the point that sufficient revenue could hardly be raised by any other method. However, a plan was advocated which would not place a burden upon those of our students who are entirely dependent upon their own resources.

Pyramid, at its next meeting, to be held at the Law School January 2, will consider the matter of devising a feasible plan for a compulsory activity fee. If a good scheme can be worked out it will be drawn up and submitted to the Board of Athletic Managers with a recommendation for its adoption.

KINKAID GOES TO VANDERBILT.

Calvin B. Kinkaid, ex-'22, a member of the Hatchet Staff of last year, recently visited the Hatchet Office with a stack of news. Mr. Kinkaid, who was unable because of extra outside work to resist in the University this year, expects to go back to Tennessee next year and enter the school of dentistry at Vanderbilt University in Nashville. Mr. Kinkaid was one of the few mainstays of the Hatchet last year, averaging several hours a week in helping the editor in getting the multitude of "copy" into shape and in writing additional copy when the occasion required.

ATTEND CHICAGO CONVENTION.

Dean Ferson and several members of the Law School faculty will attend the eighteenth annual meeting of the Association of American Law Schools to be held in Chicago, December 28, 29 and 30.

New Channels

Three months have passed since the opening of school. The University has made more progress toward fame in those few months than in all the five years previous. What is the force producing the change? Is it a natural reaction against mediocrity or is it the same restless spirit apparent everywhere, creeping into the University? Whatever the nature of the force may be, it has wrought wonders. There has been many a year since such spirit has pervaded the activities of the University. The freshmen have caught the spirit. So far they have shown most of their spirit in trying to haze sophomores, but even this is laudable. Much energy has been wasted in useless activity, however. Both the sophomore and the freshman classes have consumed a goodly part of their energy in a useless attempt to get the better of each other. Now is the time to find new channels for that excess feeling. Turn that class feeling into school spirit, and add an extra impetus to the University's progress. The class scrap actually did end in a freshman victory. Sophomores, be true sports and concede the frosh their victory. Combine the classes and on with G. W.

Christmas Greetings

The Hatchet extends to the University Officials, Faculty and Student Body the most sincere wishes for a Christmas full of joy and happiness. And may the new year bring with it the greatest prosperity to George Washington University.

Radio for the College Man LOOMIS RADIO SCHOOL

Every college man should realize that the facts established by the early experimenters in "wireless" rank among the half dozen most important discoveries made by the human race.

There are several reasons why every college man should have a knowledge of this newest and greatest of sciences. It will, without a doubt, gradually remold many of our present customs. The principles upon which it is based will be applied to many different uses as yet unguessed. Already we have, besides the telegraph, the practical radio telephone, the radio compass, which is invaluable to ships at sea and to aeroplanes and the radio cable method of guiding ships into harbors.

As a matter of up-to-date education in scientific matters in general, a course in the Loomis Radio School will prove a worth while addition to your college course.

As a means of pleasant and fascinating use of your spare time, nothing can surpass our course in radio.

As a means of entertainment for yourself and your friends, you will find the erection of a radio station in your own home or rooms to be unequalled.

As an opportunity to secure world-wide travel without expense to yourself, it offers more than any other profession in the world. Many college men study radio evenings during the winter and travel as radio operators during the summer, thereby benefiting their health, filling their pocketbooks, and seeing the world at the same time.

Start now, and let us qualify you for a cruise next summer.

CHRISTMAS.

Christmas is coming. Listen! The best way to enjoy Christmas is to be as selfish as possible. Give no presents; encourage everyone to give you presents; read the advertisements; don't buy anything; get your pleasure in the Yuletide by horning in on the pleasure of others; put a padlock on your pocketbook; plan to have as good a time as you can; figure out what you would like to give everyone; tell them you would like to give, but you can't afford it. It's the thought, you know, more than the actual gift. After Christmas say, "I'm sorry you didn't remember me." All in the mind, this Christmas stuff. All in the mind; yes, oh yes! Just try it once.

She—They say there's a germ in every kiss.
 He—Let's start right now; I want to be an invalid.

Kind Old Gentleman (seeing Johnnie Ladd bent double beneath the weight of countless Hatchets)—My boy, don't all those papers make you tired?
 Johnnie—No; I don't read 'em.

Speaking of worm gears, Nilsson states that he never saw teeth on a worm. Bless our 18th amendment.

"Lilly" Fuqua insists that a left-hand monkey wrench is the best tool to use for turning a right-hand nut. He ought to know.

HAMLESS SOLILOQUY.

(With apologies to Hamlet.)

To eat or not to eat, that is the question;

Whether 'tis nobler 'neath the belt to suffer

The slings and arrows of outrageous hunger,

Or to take arms against the pangs of famine

And by opposing end them. To cop the coin;

No more; and by a loan to say we end

The prospect of a thousand days of hunger

That else would come—'tis a consummation

Devoutly to be craved. To touch; to float

A loan; But then—to pay; Ay, there's the rub;

For in that well-fed content time may come,

When we have gorged and filled the aching void,

That we must pay: There's the respect

That bars the way to princely living.

For who would bear the empty passing of the dinner hour,

The smell of cabbage and of corned beef fragrant,

The pangs of denied grub, the absent free lunch,

The insolence of gluttons and the tears

Shed before the pancakes in Child's window,

When he himself might his quietus make

Via the loan-shark? Who would miss a meal

To lick his dry lips in anguish,

But that the dread of payments falling due.

And unknown actions at law

By no freshman ever learned, puzzles the will,

And makes us rather bear those ills we have

Than fly to others that we know not of.

Thus a little law doeth make cowards of us all,

And the native will to eat of many victuals

Is sicklied o'er with an empty pocket-book;

And dreams of steaks with onions redolent

With this regard but dreams remain,

Nor e'er get realization.

The curtain will rise upon a scene laid in the Sunny Isles of the Pacific (location not warranted) and will feature a medley of music by a stringed orchestra, together with a "grass-adorned" dancer. After intermission President Haynes and Jo Houston will sing a duet, accompanied by Harry Sokolove at the piano, and in rapid succession a classical dance by Mary Vaccaro and Lois McDaris with a surprise act performance.

DELTA TAU DELTA OFFER MEDAL.

play soon after the work is finished. The idea of awarding the medal for such student activity work has met with the approval of President William Miller Collier, Secretary Elmer Louis Kayser, and Bryan Morse, director of student activities.

The regulations governing the award are as follows: 1. The Gamma Eta chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity will award a gold medal, in June of each year to that student of the University who, in the opinion of a committee provided herein, performs the most meritorious service in the furtherance and upbuilding of the student activities.

2. The committee shall be composed of three members, one from the fraternity, and one each to be elected from the student council and the Board of Managers. This committee shall meet not later than the second week in May and consider the records of eligible students, basing their final selection upon the service rendered by such students in regard to its permanent effect upon the good of the University and the student activities.

4. To be eligible for such award a student must be a member of the sophomore, junior or senior classes. No student may be eligible for more than one award.

5. The fraternity at all times reserves the right to reject the name chosen by the committee and to ask for another nomination.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The Engineering Society was entertained on Wednesday evening, December 15, with four reels of motion pictures on "The Uses and Abuses of Twist Drills." These were sent to the society by the Cleveland Twist Drill Co. They were much appreciated and many of those present stated that they were the most interesting and instructive films shown this year.

The next regular meeting of the society will be held after the holidays. Members are urged to be on the lookout for announcements, either in the Hatchet or on the bulletins boards.

ELECT CAPTAINS.

Katherine Symmonds and Evelyn Jones were elected to captain their basketball squads, the Buff and Blue, at the last weekly practice of the G. W. girls' basketball teams. The Buff and Blue squads are the second teams and are composed of players less experienced than those of the varsity. Miss Elva Whitcomb is coaching the girls and has arranged a number of games with local and nearby secondary schools.

PYRAMID INITIATES

Pyramid held its fall initiation exercises at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house last Wednesday evening.

The initiates were: Honorary, Dr. Daniel LeRay Borden; active, William Preston Haynes, Harold Thomas Kay, William Henry Stayton, Jr., and Russell Irving Whyte.

In last week's Hatchet an account of the student activities of each of the initiates except "Bill" Stayton was given. Due to the fact that he was in the military service for two years, many of the students may not have heard much of Stayton. However, a glance at the list of his activities show that he has been working for G. W. U.

"Bill" is a member of the third-year law class this year. He was president of the freshman law class, 1916-17, member of the first student council, 1916-17, on the freshman prom committee, 1916-17, chairman student activities committee, 1916-17; assistant coach of the football squad, 1920, and in charge of the freshman squad. He donned a football suit and worked hard throughout the season, taking charge of practice in the absence of Coach Morse.

Before coming to G. W. U. he attended Harvard for two years, playing on the freshman football team of that university. During the war he rose to the rank of major of infantry.

BRINGS ORIENT TO G. W. WOMEN.

At the last meeting of the Columbian Women of George Washington University, held at the Law School, Dr. W. E. Safford of the Bureau of Plant Industry spoke on the arts of Japan. He illustrated his lecture by rare prints, pictures, and carvings, which he had brought from Japan.

At the business meeting plans were discussed for a motion-picture show to be given for the benefit of the Columbian Women's Scholarship Fund and for the furnishing of the women's rooms in the Law Building. The show will be given the first Wednesday in February, at the Knickerbocker Theater. Mrs. John Paul Earnest is chairman of the movie committee.

The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. W. E. Chamberlain, Mrs. Franz, Mrs. Homer H. Gordon and Miss Edgbert.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE.

George Washington, Swarthmore and West Virginia University have agreed to hold a triangular debate. Try-outs for candidates to represent George Washington will be held Monday, January 10, at 7:30, at G. W. U. Law School. All men and women students in the University are eligible to compete, and it is urged that a large number attend the meeting. The speeches must be of five minutes' length on the subject: "Resolved, That labor should share in the management of corporate industry."

WILL REPEAT LECTURE.

Mr. George Oakley Totten, a Washington architect, has consented to repeat his lecture on the Mayan architecture of Yucatan, which he gave last year. During his study of this kind of architecture, in Central America, Mr. Totten collected many interesting pictures of the buildings which were built by the Indians. He will use these to illustrate his lecture. The date has not yet been set, but will probably be soon after the holidays.

PLAN BASKETBALL LEAGUE.

The possibilities of an interfraternity basketball league at the University are very bright. At a meeting of the interfraternity association held December 15, the subject was brought up for discussion. The idea was favorably received by all the delegates present at the meeting. William L. Neill was appointed chairman of a committee to look into the feasibility of the project.

Four years have elapsed since the University has had an interfraternity basketball league, the last being in 1916.

THE MAN SHE WANTS.

I want a man who'll treat me rough,
A slam-bang guy with manners gruff,
A brute who'll grab me by the hair
And drag me with him to his lair.

I want a man who'll beat me sore
That I may love him all the more;
The kind of brute who knows no law,
Who'll sneer at wounds that made me raw.

I crave the breed who'll make me crawl
On hands and knees about his hall,
A super-beast to kick me 'round
An' make me glad to be his hound.

I want a beast who'll eat alone
And now and then toss me a bone;
Who'll choke me hard and yet again,
To prove he loves me now and then.

That's what I want, one with a club,
A savage who'll make me his scrub;
The kind who'd beat me nigh to death
And curse me with his dying breath.

You may not like the choice I make
Or want the type of brute I take;
My lord and master must be tough
To suit me; I want cave man stuff!

"How many cubs do you bring into the world at one time?" she asked the LIONESS.

"Only ONE," replied the Lioness—"but it's a LION."
